Horrible Diseases.

... thousands of persons, both male and female, who are suffering out a miserable existence ... effects of secret indulgences or from virus ... the system. Look at their pallid emaciated faces and their broken-down constitutions, unfitting them for the happiness of marriage ... of life. In this horrid situation they ... until death closes the scene. Let parents ... attend to those who are suffering with ... horrible life-destroying maladies — see that ... fed and cured before it is too late. Send ... lately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has ... disease his especial study for years, and who ... cure the most inveterate cases without mercurial or injurious drugs. It is important to those ... or to those who are interested in the ... friends, to be careful of the many pretenders who infest all cities, pulling their skill ... diseases in a few days, imposing upon the ... the names of eminent physicians from other places. Be therefore careful and make ... or you may fall into the hands of those ...

Seminal Weakness

... the consequence of self abuse. This ... depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced ... of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, ... with unerring certainty the following train of symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medication, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, ringing in the ears, noise like ... of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness ... weakness of the limbs, confused vision, ... loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching ..., a dislike to form new acquaintances, ... to shun society, loss of memory, hectic ... and various eruptions about the face, ... fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night ... mania and frequent insanity. Look at the Directory ... and 1865. The only way to avoid imposition ... make enquiry — it will cost you nothing and ... many regrets; for as advertising physicians ... cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no ... trusting any of them until you know who and ... are. Northern Pacific Railroad

COMMUNICATION FROM PHILIP RITZ, OF WALLA WALLA, TO THE SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

(Concluded)

In regard to the climate of this portion of the Rocky mountains, I have crossed the summit at different places on this section in mid winter both last winter and the present one, on horseback and in the stage, and as free from snow are those passages from the effects of wind currents coming from the great plains of the Columbia and the Pacific ocean, that I found no difficulty in crossing at any time, and did not find the snow over six inches deep on the 30th day of December. The settlers and miners pass back and forth over the mountains almost every day during the winter; large herds of cattle and horses are wintered on the Deer Lodge and Little Blackfoot rivers within ten miles of the summit of the Rocky mountains without a morsel of food being provided for them. I know of one party who has two hundred head and another has thirteen hundred head. Both have wintered their cattle here for two seasons, and have never put up any hay for them, but leave them to graze during the winter months. And at Fort Benton, for the last twenty five years there has not been snow enough for the fur company to take their goods to the different posts on sleds in winter, having to use carts for that purpose.

I have learned that this is no unusual thing. In conversation with Victor, head chief of the Flathead nation, and who is now about seventy years of age, and remembers distinctly when Lewis and Clark came through this country, he stated that since the memory of the Indian they had passed through these mountains year after year, through the winter months, often with their women and children, with pack animals laden down with furs and meat. Other Indians and trappers have told me the same.

It is evident that this route possesses greater natural advantages than any other route across the continent in soil and climate capable of sustaining animal life, from the fact that it was the route selected by Lewis and Clark sixty three years ago to cross to the Pacific ocean. Their information of the country must of course have been obtained from mountaineers and Indians who had been led into the country by the large numbers of game known to rove through these passes for ages. The scientific engineer may find it policy to cut through some mountain spurs or tunnel some lofty summits, but the great practical paying routes will be found to be those first marked out by the deer thousands of years ago in passing from one well watered and good grazing ground to another. And on its track followed the Indian in the chase, next the trapper with his pack horse, after him the pioneer with his wagon; and finally there follows over the same general route, the greatest and highest achievement of science and civilization—the iron horse and the lightning messenger. Had it not been for the accidental discovery of gold in California this would undoubtedly have been the route first selected for the Pacific railroad.

I have been asked by persons here, "Will the Rocky mountain district ever be settled?" In reply, I would say that on the first of last November (1867) I left Walla Walla on horseback alone to go into the Rocky mountains on business, passing through the eastern part of Washington, the northern part of Idaho, and traveling more than 1,500 miles in Montana, and put up at a house every night with good accommodations, and had grain for my horse in almost every instance.

Montana at this time has a population of 65,000 souls, and has towns of from 3,000 to 6,000 inhabitants, with fire proof buildings costing $75,000, and stocks of goods worth from $100,000 to $200,000, and valleys producing 100,000 bushels of wheat, and public schools and churches, and its daily and weekly newspapers, which would be a credit to any country, and yet all this improvement and settlement has been made within three or four years, and that, too, without the immediate prospect of a railroad, and none of the aids and excitement which the starting and commencing of such an enterprise would furnish.

Another reason why the northern road should be built is that it runs near the British possessions for 1,500 miles and would drain all that rich agricultural region of the Red river and Saskatchewan country, east of the mountains, and all the rich gold mines on the Kootenay, the Thompson and the Fraser rivers on the west and lying north of the 49th parallel.

The revenue to our Government from this source alone would be very great indeed, and a road then would not be attempted to be built by England, and the whole country would soon become a thoroughly Americanized (as already more than half the miners in that country are Americans) that they would in a short time be asking for annexation to the United States; and by the time that our population would need more territory the British Possessions would become ours with out conquest and almost without purchase.

Here I would just add that a petition has already been circulated in British Columbia to the home Government, containing the following significant language: "That we humbly submit to your Majesty's gracious consideration, as the only policy to bring back prosperity to our homes, to wit: Either that your Majesty's Government may be pleased to relieve us immediately of the expense of an excessive staff of officials, assist the establishment of a British line of steamers with Panama, so that emigrants from England may reach us, and also assume the debts of this colony, or that your Majesty will graciously permit the colony to become a portion of the United States. That every feeling of loyalty and cherished sentiment of our hearts prompt us to cling to our present connection with our mother country, and to count as our best inheritance our birthright as Britons, but all our commercial and business relations are ... with the neighboring American population that we see no other feasible help out of our present difficulties than by being united with them, unless your Majesty's Government will help us as aforesaid."

We think it has been proven that the northern route is not only capable of sustaining a large population on the entire distance, but that the summits are about four thousand feet less than on the central line; that the distance on an average, from San Francisco and Seattle to the different ports on the Atlantic shore are three hundred and sixteen miles less than on the central route, and that a degree of longitude being less on the north than on the 38th latitude makes the distance by ocean from Canton to Liverpool, by the northern route, some eight hundred miles less, making in all over one thousand miles less on the northern route between Asia and Europe than over any other route across the continent.

The sum of ascents and descents from St. Paul to Seattle is 21,... feet, and ...,... feet on the central route. These figures give the best practical index of the effect of the gradients to increase the cost of transportation.

Engineers allow one mile for every 2 06 feet rise and fall as denoting the additional working expenses over a level route. This difference would make one hundred and forty four miles in favor of the northern route. ... the fact that Liverpool, and all the principal ports of Europe, lie between the 49th and 60th degrees of latitude north, and we have ... in favor of the northern line an average of 250 miles on the Atlantic ... making in all a real ... of 1,1... miles in addition to a practical working distance of 144 and 250 ... giving in total ... miles advantage to the Northern route over any other route across the continent between Liverpool and Canton.

These facts show that not only is Puget Sound nearer Asia than San Francisco, but that the inland distance to the principal cities on the Atlantic coast, and especially the great lakes, where freight can be shipped without breaking bulk to Europe direct, is much less than the distance from San Francisco to the same points, by either the central or southern route, and that the grades are much easier on the northern ... than on any other route, and the grain ... controlling elements in carrying freights. Add this to the fact that the northern route will be self sustaining the entire distance, while on the ... route here are three hundred ... it ... ... that ... actually transport food for the use of ...

Taking all these into consideration, and that we have the finest harbor ... and that the distance is so much shorter from Liverpool to Canton, over the northern route than any other across the continent, it is evident that it will be for the interest of the Government to avail itself of this route in the transportation of its troops, munitions of war and the mails, not only for our own country, but for the British possessions and for Europe and Asia, together with the express freight and all costly articles such as teas and silks, which will be an immense item in a few years, not only to Europe, but to our own Mississippi valley, when it comes to contain a population of 50,000,000 souls, which it soon will.

In this connection, I may state that it has been estimated that a ton of freight can be delivered at Chicago by the northern route for less than it can be delivered at Rock Island, on the Mississippi, by the central.

Indeed a comparison of the distances and the cheapness of down river freights show that a ton of freight can be taken from Seattle, over the northern route to St. Paul and placed on a steamer and delivered not only at Rock Island and St. Louis at less cost than it can be delivered at either of these points by the central road, but it can descend the Mississippi and be delivered at any point thence to New Orleans at less cost than from San Francisco either by the central or southern route.

In giving these statistics and in making these comparisons, I do it with no invidious feelings whatever toward the central or any other competing route, as we of the north are glad to see our friends of the central road pushing their work through with such energy and vigor as to astonish the whole civilized world. The sooner there is a continuous rail from New York to San Francisco the better for the people of the State of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Montana, in common with those of California, Nevada, Utah, and Colorado, and I think that the Government will find that the aid extended to the central route will prove to be the best loans ever made, as the increase in taxes and revenue must prove very great indeed. But I give these statements simply to show that in all the essential characteristics of travel and of commerce, in respect to distances and other natural advantages, the northern route has the advantage. And if the friends of the route and of the Government in general will prove true to their own interests, they will build up and establish on our own soil a great national highway between Lake Superior and Puget Sound over which will flow, through the beautiful valleys and over the mountains of Washington and Montana, the great golden current of wealth from the Orient which has ever borne empire on its pathway.

To build this road, which no company is able to do without assistance from the Government, I understand the company do not ask for capital; all they ask for is the endorsement of the Government, substantially as furnished to other and similar roads, as a basis of credit.

The provisions of the bill are such as to preclude the possibility of the loss of a single dollar by the Government. And I feel sure that the business of the road will be so great even from the commencement, that not only the interest but the bonds will be paid off promptly at maturity.

There is no reason why the northern road should not pay as well or even better than the central. And from the report of the Secretary of the Interior "the Union Pacific Railway Company furnished a table showing that the amount retained by the United States Treasurer from that due the company on the Government business, for the month of August last, is nearly eight per cent. per annum of the principal of the bonds issued to the company on account of the construction of the road." This would repay the principal at no distant period by the Government business alone, should it be continued to the same extent. The payment of the bonds at maturity is, therefore, considered by the company to be fully assured, and the road as being built so far as the Government is concerned simply by the loan of its credit for a term of years upon ample security, and without the actual expenditure of a single dollar from the public treasury. With the aid of the credit thus asked for, I have no doubt that the company can not only construct the road, but save the Government from any possible loss, and add largely to the population, power, and wealth of the nation.

In this communication the distance on a portion of the route and many important statistics have been taken from the excellent report of our lamented Governor Stevens, whose hallowed memory every citizen of Washington Territory loves to cherish.

Grant Club at Astoria.

ASTORIA, April 10th, 1868.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

We have just organized a Grant Club at this place. The officers of the Club are L. L. Sawyer, President; Rev. Horace Lyman, Capt. Rippon, and W. W. Parker, Vice Presidents; John Badollet, Secretary. It will doubtless prove a power for the success of Union sentiment in this county. Every one who joins must subscribe to the following confession of political faith:

That the Government of the United States is the supreme Government of the land.

That it has the constitutional power to coerce a rebellious State.

That no State has the right to judge of its grievances or ... redress.

That Congress is the supreme law making power, subject to the Constitution.

That the faith of the nation should be kept.

That from the people emanate all political power.

That the minority should yield to the law abiding majority without appealing to arms.

That good men deserve rewards, but criminals merit punishment.

That all power not delegated to the General Government belongs to the States or the people.

That no man should misrepresent facts when discussing political questions.

And lastly, That the man who loves party or office more than the principles on which our Government is founded is unworthy to be an American citizen.

A. H. STEPHENS ON THE PRESIDENT'S APPOINTING POWER. — A correspondent who has been reading Mr Greeley's History has discovered the following paragraph in a speech of Hon. H. A. Stephens, made November 8, 1860. He thinks the present a good time to quote it.

"The President of the United States is no emperor, no dictator; he is clothed with no absolute power. He can do nothing unless he is backed by the power of Congress. Mr. Lincoln cannot appoint an officer without the consent of the Senate. He cannot form a Cabinet without the same consent. He will be in the condition of George III, who had to ask Whigs to appoint his Ministers and was compelled to receive a Cabinet utterly opposed to his views. And so Mr. Lincoln will have to ask the Senate to choose for him a Cabinet, if the Democracy of that body choose to put him on such terms. He will have to do this or let the Government stop, should the Democracy so determine."

Mr. Ross ... has ... to Congress his report of the ... mineral regions extending along the Pacific slope of our Continent, comprising the States and Territories of California, New Mexico, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, Arizona, Nevada. The harvest of gold in these in the year 1867 was $75,000,000. From January 1, 1848, to January 1, 1868, the gathering of golden dust and ore amounted to about $1,185,00 000. The report says that the placers are less productive than formerly, while the veins and quartz workings are operated in increase. The mining population has diminished by over 60,000 persons, and the people in general are giving an increased attention to agriculture, the harvests of which will be a truer and richer wealth than the gold gatherings, though these last will contribute their due share to the general prosperity of the country.

THE TENDER ... DEMOCRACY. — Pendleton's ... organ, in speaking of the war for the Union, says, "We take pleasure in remembering how we ... upon ... an act of national ... destruction originating ... and ... to ... our ... upon ... as ... otherwise than unmitigatedly disastrous. We view ... up in this continent. Its main consequence was the ... slavery and the ... of four millions of human beings." ... Mr. Pendleton's organ mourns like Rachel, and will not be comforted.

The Creed of the "Democracy."

As the La Crosse Democrat is much more widely circulated in this State than any other "Democratic" paper, and as this fact indicates that it represents the views of that party, we give the following extracts from one of its late ..., in order to show our readers what "Democratic" principles are. One of several articles ... repudiation, thus begins:

BUY NO BONDS!—SELL YOUR BONDS!

We deem it due to our friends, to advise them now, before it is too late, to avoid a loss, not to invest their money in United States bonds.

And those who have bonds had better sell them at once, and lend their money upon ... mortgage, well secured, or purchase real estate in the city, village or country, in the growing and thriving west, whither the course of empire takes its way!

Depend upon it, repudiation is to come!

The people are going to throw off the debt!

They will stop at no greenback half way house, to save the bondholders and ruin themselves.

Another editorial on Presidential candidates curtly snubs McClellan, Hancock, and all the class, and thus gives a list of candidates who would be acceptable to the party:

"Here they are — a list of Presidents for you, that would do credit to the best days of the republic. Franklin Pierce, of New Hampshire, Thomas H. Seymour, of Connecticut, Charles O'Connor, of New York, George Sharswood, of Pennsylvania, Alexander Long, of Ohio, Benjamin G. Harris, of Maryland, Robert ... of Virginia, John C. Breckenridge, of Kentucky. There, who can beat that?

Which will you take, gentlemen? We will be with and agree to elect, either, if you will nominate him."

In another column the editor reprints a paragraph of an article which he published in August, 1864. We know how literally his prophecy was fulfilled.

"The man who votes for Lincoln now is a traitor. Lincoln is a traitor and a murderer. He who pretending to war for, wars against the constitution of our country is a traitor, and Lincoln is one of those men. He who calls and allures men to certain butchery, is a murderer, and Lincoln has done all this. Had any former Democratic President warred upon the constitution or trifled with the destinies of the nation as Lincoln has, he would have been hung long since. And if he is elected to misgovern for another four years, we trust some bold hand will pierce his heart with a dagger point for the public good."

Of the ... who carried out the ... above given, into action, the ... gives ... the name of the party ...

"It is but a little while ... the ... of John Wilkes Booth ... friends of liberty, and canonized the name of the heroic youth to the hearts of all who believe that resistance to tyranny is obedience to God.

The name of John Wilkes Booth will go down to future generations along with that of Brutus.

When the merciless petty tyrants that now perpetrate the most hideous crimes in the name of liberty in this stricken land, shall have passed into the gulf of oblivion, their very ... their deeds unrecorded, the name of John Wilkes Booth, the young American patriot of the nineteenth century, ... revolving year, and brighter ... triumph of human liberty, will be the watchword of freedom's children until the last available record of time."

Democratic Recreancy

In the third resolution of the platform adopted by the Republican National Convention at Chicago, in 1860, it was resolved that "we hold in abhorrence all schemes for disunion and we congratulate the country that no Republican member of Congress has uttered or countenanced the threats of disunion so often made by Democratic members, without rebuke and with applause from their political associates; and we denounce those threats of disunion, in case of a popular overthrow of their ascendancy, as denying the vital principles of a free government, and as an avowal of contemplated treason." The debates which took place in Congress after the election of Mr Lincoln, when the Southern rebels were proceeding to carry out their threats to destroy the Union, show that not one Republican member of Congress gave countenance to the idea of coercion, but that they all declared that the national authority must be upheld, and the Union maintained at any cost or sacrifice. The same position was taken by the patriotic Democrats of that body who, when the war came, took sides with the Republicans and formed the Union party. Sickles said in Congress in January, 1861: "In all partisan issues between the South and the Republican party, we are with the South; but when the South makes an untenable issue with our country when the flag of the Union is insulted, when the fortified places, provided for the common defense, are assaulted and seized, then we are a unit for the Union." No threat of disunion no word which could be construed into an acquiescence in the doctrines of the secessionists, was heard either from Republicans or from those Democrats who afterwards united with the Republicans and all patriotic men of every party to save the country. But what did those members who represented what was called the "regular" Democratic organisation do? They gave every encouragement to the secessionists, but a few of them openly advocated the right of secession, and all of them took the ground that the Government had no right to enforce its authority by force of arms. The record of their speeches, as preserved in the official pages of Congress, is the blackest record in history. Vallandigham brought forward a proposition to divide the Union into four sections, Bingham went so far as to say to the seceding States, "Depart in peace," Stewart of Maryland said that the talk of coercion was the "wildest of all wild ravings," and urged "firmness on the part of the South." Powell, a Senator from Kentucky reiterated substantially the doctrines which had been advanced by Lane of Oregon, and all the rest talked in the same way. Men who had taken an oath to defend and preserve the Constitution, men who had been entrusted with the destinies of the Republic, stood up in the national councils, giving encouragement and support to traitors who had resolved on the nation's destruction. Not a word of rebuke did disunion and treason receive from them. The only men who stood firm for their country and refused to listen to any proposals for disunion were the Republicans and the patriotic Democrats who, when hostilities began, combined for the purpose of quelling the rebellion and perpetuating the Union. These men still stand together, asking that "to us . . . the fruits of the struggle," and those who made common cause with the secessionists in 1860 are still on the same side, using all their efforts to bring the country again under the control of the traitorous combination which plunged it into the abyss of civil war. And these same individuals have the effrontery to talk about their veneration for the Constitution and to accuse the only true friends of the country, of an attempt to subvert a shred of the Constitution would now be left,—of unconstitutional action and of hostility to the instrument which makes our country all it is!

In the following remarks the San Francisco Examiner (Copperhead) evidently alludes to those whom that party in California, when sick and weak, accepted as leaders—including Gov Haight, Senator Casserly, Congressman Axtell, and others. It thus gives them notice of the intention of the party to throw them overboard. "There are too many political hermaphrodites holding and clamoring for office at the hands of the triumphant Democracy at this time. Policy may require of us the tolerating of these excrescences for a time; our mission just now is not to save the righteous, but to bring sinners to repentance, still we fondly cherish the hope, that a day of party purity may soon be reached, when these malignant excrescences these corroding political cancers can be cut out and cast away without danger to the patient."

A correspondent at Lafayette sends us some of the points of the speech made there by Ben Hayden a few days ago. "The Union party received this Government from the Democrats in peace and free . . . The so called Union party lied when they said they put down the rebellion. It was the Democratic party that put it down." "The Union party dares not try Jeff Davis, he would show a black catalogue of crime against them which would shame hell itself." "Lincoln was a tyrant." "Johnson will yet disperse the band of traitors trying to impeach him and he (the speaker) hoped he would hang every one of them higher than Haman." These will serve as specimens, it is not necessary to give any more.

Judge Caton, of the Supreme Court of Illinois who has been spoken of in connection with the Democratic nomination for Governor of that State wrote a letter a short time ago declining to be a candidate and giving his views on the Presidential prospect. He says Pendleton is, next to Vallandigham, the most objectionable man in the country. To nominate him is to take the affirmative upon a questionable financial policy and also upon Pendleton's war record. He thinks that with such a man as Dix there would be a chance of a . . .

A correspondent of the Umatilla Press, writing from Walla Walla, says: "If Smith is not elected and Democracy triumphant in Oregon it will not be because he has no friends and well wishers outside of Oregon." We had heard before from all sources that some hundreds of the "friends and well wishers of Smith out side of Oregon," were expected to happen in from Washington and Idaho Territories to make "Democracy triumphant here." But our friends east of the mountains expect to spoil this game.

The Copperheads sneer at the Union party for desiring "to secure the fruits of the war." It is not surprising that those who betrayed the country should sneer at the solicitude which others feel for its future security. The Herald will doubtless understand.

The number of school districts in Douglas county is 47; number of school children, 2,223, amount paid teachers during the past year, $..,900.

The Duties of the Executive

Some of the Copperhead papers are making a point against the President's impeachment that the tenure of office law which he is charged with violating, will be pronounced to be unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. There is not the remotest possibility that that court will pronounce any such decision, but even if it should, it will not aid Mr Johnson in the least. It is his duty to execute the laws as he finds them on the statute book until they are declared to be unconstitutional by the proper tribunal. He has no right to disobey a law of the land on the assumption that it is unconstitutional. If this were not so, the President might set aside all the laws of Congress since the foundation of the government upon the ground that they are unconstitutional. The President possesses no such power because it is not an executive but exclusively a judicial power and all the laws of Congress must be obeyed and executed by the President unless their execution is restrained by judicial authority. To declare a law unconstitutional, as Mr Johnson has done, is indeed not only an exercise of judicial power, but of the highest judicial power and only to be resorted to by the courts where in its judgment it is clearly unconstitutional and in all doubtful cases the courts uniformly have refused to interfere with the execution of the law.

The duties of the Executive, under the Constitution, were very clearly set forth by the Hon Robert J. Walker in his recent argument in the Mississippi case before the Supreme Court, an extract from which will be interesting, because Mr Walker has been regarded as one of the President's firmest supporters. Read in view of Andrew Johnson's violation of the civil tenure act for which he is soon to be on trial, it is a very important authority:

"And here let me say a word in vindication of the President, who has been greatly censured especially by a large portion of the secession press of the South, for carrying into execution an act which he had vetoed upon the ground that it was unconstitutional. When a bill is presented to the President, he is bound to inquire into its constitutionality before he gives his approval. He is then co-operating with the legislative department of the Government. If he declines to sign it, and it is passed by a two thirds majority of Congress, it is as much an act of Congress as if it had received the sanction of the President, and it necessarily follows that, under the obligation imposed upon him by the Constitution to see that the laws are faithfully executed, he is as much bound to execute that act as one which met his fullest approval. Why? Because the President possesses no judicial power, nor does Congress. If Congress were to attempt to convert itself into a judicial body, and the two houses should go into Committee of the Whole to inquire into the constitutionality of a particular act, their resolution on that subject would be a mere nullity, because they possess legislative power, and not executive or judicial. So the President has no right to judge of the constitutionality of an act of Congress after it becomes a law, that being a judicial question.

"If this were not so, it would be the right, and therefore the duty, of every successive President, so soon as he was inaugurated, to take up the hundreds of volumes containing all the acts of Congress, and inquire judicially which of them were constitutional and which not, and carry into execution those which he believed to be constitutional and refuse to execute those which he believed to be unconstitutional. I say the President would be usurping the judicial function, and overthrowing the distinction created by the Constitution between the co-ordinate departments of the Government if he were to attempt to exercise such a power as that. He has no discretion except to execute the act, and that important fact goes to the very gist of the matter. When an application is made for a mandamus to compel the performance of an act, or an injunction to restrain the execution of an illegal act, it depends upon whether the executive officers have a discretion in either case to judge of the law, and a right to execute it or not, at their pleasure. If they have no discretion, and the law positively commands the execution of a particular act, the remedy is by mandamus to act affirmatively, if the law forbids peremptorily the execution of an act, then, where it can be made a judicial question, the appeal is to the judicial tribunals, and especially where the question is a constitutional one. In this case, the President has no discretion except to execute the laws, the subordinate officers who are obeying his commands have no discretion except to carry his orders into effect, and there is no discretion in such a case between an executive and ministerial duty."

BUSINESS AT UMATILLA.—The Press of the 11th, in its review of the markets, says: "Since our last review, the town has presented quite a lively appearance. Boats have arrived and departed daily with full cargoes of freight; teams and pack trains throng our streets continually loaded with . . . and cargoes for all parts of the mines and on the whole, Umatilla looks quite a town for business. Within the last two days, however, we experienced less activity, owing to the failure of the Continental to deliver all her cargo at Portland. This causes considerable inconvenience to most of our merchants as well as to those living in the upper country. The delay to goods between San Francisco and this place is great already—unavoidably so perhaps—and that of the Continental is felt more so as at this season of the year merchants are more in need of their goods than at any other time. The discharging of freight from ocean steamers at Portland must be very slow considering that the Continental was full forty-eight hours at her wharf before she had to depart on her errand of mercy.

The news from the Willow or Shasta Creek mines is less encouraging than we looked for. Reports from there are still conflicting. Enough, however, is known to justify us in saying that they were greatly exaggerated, and that there are too many miners and goods there already.

The Democratic party pretends to believe in a "strict construction" of the Constitution. Its platform in this State demands aid from the General Government for railroads. Will some one of its wise men point out the clause in the Constitution which gives Congress the power to grant aid for such purposes? The party has for more than half a century opposed internal improvements by the General Government on the ground that such a policy was unconstitutional. But the "strict constructionists" of Oregon have suddenly discovered that there is such a power in the Constitution. It would be interesting to hear them tell where it is.

The following are the "lost cause" nominations in Umatilla county. For Representatives, D Drumheller, A. L. Kirk, Sheriff, O F Thomson, County Judge, W. G. Bailey; Clerk, James M Moore, Treasurer, H. C Paige, Commissioners, O F Clark Henry Schooling, Assessor, William Carter Coroner, Dr Teal; Surveyor, E A Wilson, School Superintendent, A W Sweeney.

Had the Democratic party been true to the country in 1860 61, had its leaders, who then had control of the Government shown the courage and patriotism which the nation has a right to demand of all its citizens, and especially of those to whom its greatest trusts are confided, we should not now be taxed to pay the interest on several thousand millions of debt nor be in mourning for those half million children of the Republic doomed to death by the cowardice of Democratic statesmanship and the recreancy of the Democratic party.

Why do not the Democratic editors and orators boldly advocate the doctrines of the "Resolutions of '98?" Because they dare not go before the people and openly advocate the "time honored principles." Nor do they as the Unionist well observes, dare to dissent emphatically from these doctrines for fear of losing the support of the secession element of the party.

There is a proposition to settle the "Division Question" in Douglas county by submitting the matter to the Legislature in September, with a bill properly framed to submit the question to the electors of the county in the November election. We hope to see this, or some other practicable mode adopted.

At a Union meeting in Nevada, the preamble to the resolutions began,—"Whereas Andrew Johnson is not a reliable Union man nor even a respectable Democrat, but an incubus on the country, resolved" etc etc.

The Democratic idea of finance—that the country can live by taxing its own debts. Then of course the more it owes the greater the revenue and the greater the debt the greater the "blessing."

Gov Woods was at Salt Lake City on the 9th inst, en route for home.

After lengthy discussion the vote was taken . . . was not admitted, ayes 25 noes . . .

. . . President . . . other person as Secretary of War . . . Stanton.

Objection . . . admitted, ayes 18 . . .

A consultation . . . place between the President's counsel, the result of which was that they gave up General Sherman as a witness.

Butler declined to cross examine.

A recess of fifteen minutes was taken. Upon reassembling, R. J. Meigs, Clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia was called. He testified that he affixed the seal to the warrant for the arrest of General Thomas about 2 o'clock in the morning, upon the affidavit of Secretary Stanton.

Stanbery offered these papers as evidence.

Butler objected on the ground that they did not bear upon the case.

The Chief Justice decided papers were competent evidence.

Counsel appealed from the decision, and the Senate sustained the Chief Justice by 34 to 17.

General Sherman was recalled to answer a question put by Senator Johnson whether when the President tendered him the office of Secretary of War ad interim he told him for what purpose it was.

Objection was made to the question which was however decided admissible.

Butler again objected to this proceeding further.

Johnson then offered an additional question, viz: What did the President tell you his purpose was? This was objected to but the Senate sustained the question by 26 ayes to . . . noes.

Sherman then said: The President told me the relations between Stanton and himself and the members of his Cabinet were such . . . he must fill Stanton's place with . . . ad interim . . . appointment in the interests of the country . . . He did not say his purpose was to take it . . . matter . . . Court . . . satisfied if it went into court it would not stand half an hour.

Stanbery asked the witness to relate what the President did say at the other interviews.

The Managers objected on the ground that the Court had dismissed the witness who was recalled simply to answer one question and the counsel had no right to examine him further. The question was finally admitted.

Witness said nothing definite was said by either himself or the President at the first interview. At the second the President expressed the desire to have the constitutionality of the Tenure of Office law tested. He also said if the witness accepted the position of Secretary ad interim Stanton would make no resistance. He was too cowardly. The witness gave no positive answer at that time.

Henderson asked the witness if he gave the President any advice on the subject. The Senate refused to admit the question. Gen. Sherman retired, the Managers informing him that they would call him to morrow.

The Court then adjourned.

Produce Market.

Flour—Beyond the local demand, there is no thing worthy to report. The Panama steamer this morning carried 2,800 bbls in transit to New York, principally on owners account.

Wheat.—Sales include 1,500 sks good shipping, private, 900 sks Oregon, white at $2 4 . We quote fair to good shipping at $2 40@2 45, and bakers extra at $2 50.

Barley—500 sks brewing at $2 per 100 lbs.

Oats—Sale of 500 sks in lots at $2 50@2 20.

The principal feature of interest in the produce market to day was the sale of 1,000 tons of wheat in one lot for export. 500 tons recently held by the same party will be shipped on owners' account. The disposition of these two lots leaves but about 400 tons in the hands of the party who has been regarded as the principal wheat holder in this city.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!

A Pure and Powerful Tonic,

Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES

Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels

Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.

REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.

Cures Dyspepsia Liver Complaint Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits Constipation Colic, Intermittent Fevers Sea Sickness

Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or

PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element no fiery excitant but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs

Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them

Last but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid ... to ... all more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

Climate Changes of the Earth

It is now pretty well established that the earth has two more motions than its diurnal and annual. First, there is the diurnal motion, in which the globe turns on its axis every 24 hours. Second, there is its revolution around the sun, which takes 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, 57 seconds to accomplish. Third, the motion of the whole solar system in space, that is the earth, with all the planets and stars moving around what is supposed to be a central sun. Fourth, a motion in which, through a long period of years, the poles of the earth are changed, the equatorial region in time becoming the polar region, and vice versa.

Through the influence of this motion we of the temperate zone are gradually approaching the equator; indeed, it can be shown from history, taking a given zone, that it has become warmer as time advances. Many trees and plants—the vine and olive, for instance—flourish in places where, 2,000 years ago, they did not grow. The change is so gradual and so slow that the longest lived being cannot perceive it, but that the climate change takes place is very evident nevertheless. Another evidence is adduced in the peculiarity of the animals, the remains of which have been found in the polar regions, which only have existed when that region had a ... to equator at bearing than it has at present. The proof that tropical plants grow there is also ... The bearing of ancient churches, which were invariably built facing east or west, but which now differ materially from these points, is said to be another proof of this terrestrial change.

The phenomenon called the precession of equinoxes, in virtue of which the first point of Aries recedes upon the ecliptic of about 50 seconds in a year, gradually causing a complete change in the seasons, and, counting from any given time, there must elapse at least 21,000 years before the season can return to precisely the same period of the year. It has been ascertained, so it is asserted, that up to the year 1248 of the Christian era a day in which the first day of winter precisely coincided with the earth's passage through its perihelion, the temperature of the southern hemisphere had ... in constant course of lowering. And it is moreover made plain, according to the calculation, that after the lapse of 10,500 years the ... will be exactly reversed.

Th... 10,500 years before the year 1248 ... years before the present time it was ... the pole, and ... its opposite one ... ing ... over, ... for the ... the ... were continents ... hemisphere. And again, ... and natural laws, 10,500 years after the first cataclysm a new one will occur, which will again submerge the ... hemisphere, and allow a new world to emerge from the Southern Ocean.

It is with this motion of the earth we have to deal when treating on the deluvian phenomenon.—De Bow's Review.

The Standpoint.

Mr. Logan says the difference in standpoint is all that prevents himself and Mr. Smith from viewing things alike. He stands with the people of the nation who saved it from secession and put down the rebellion, and views public affairs as they view them, while Mr. Smith is standing with the enemies of the country, and sees with the eyes they entertain.

This Democratic matter of standpoint is worth investigating. In Mr. Smith's speech at the Wigwam, he found a good deal of fault with everything the Union party had done, and could see nothing in anything we had done or proposed to do, and, at the same time, had no plan of his own except to let the rebels all come back to Congress. This is the sum of Democratic faith and principle to-day: let rebel States back into the Union any way, so as to let them have their own way and come. As to me, Mr. Smith said no man could with truth say he ever favored secession or rebellion. Can any man say with truth that he ever denounced secession or rebellion, or encouraged the armies who put them down? "He that is not with us is against us." Mr. Smith was not with us. He says, privately, he remained in the party to keep it from going astray, too far, but the only effect has been that it went and was ... the ... ship. How can he say he does not view matters from a rebel and disunion standpoint? He is found among rebels—they will vote for him—but if he makes the same assertions that he opposed secession and rebellion he will ... the ... of Long Tom and the Forks of the Santiam, and will not reduce a Union man to make up the loss. There is no half way to be a christian or a patriot. The christian grace of charity forgiveth much, but Mr. Smith has no christian charity with which to view Republican statesmen and acts. We were striving to save the nation, and he was not with us. In our ... he was ... for us, and so must have been against us. And now, when the conflict has been by Union valor ended on the field, and is transferred to the polls, we hear Mr. Smith carping and fault-finding at the ... to save the nation in the direst hour of peril, ... fault with a reconstruction which does not allow rebels to rule us and has no other fault. Yes, he occupies a rebel standpoint, and cannot deny it. There are none so blind as those who won't see.—Record

THE HERALD ON NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The New York Herald, the most widely circulated and influential Democratic paper in the United States, except Brick Pomeroy's LaCrosse Democrat, takes the following view of the New Hampshire election:

"The New Hampshire election has set the Republicans fairly upon their legs again. They could hardly be more delighted if they had gained a wholly unexpected victory. The prestige of the State elections of last October and November was heavily against them. The proposition of universal negro suffrage, upon which they had been so signally defeated in Ohio and New York, but to which they still stood committed throughout the country in sustaining the Southern reconstruction policy of Congress, expenditures, frauds in the revenue, and corruption of all kinds incidental to our heavy taxation, and the gloomy prospect in reference to the lightening of these oppressive burdens, were all so many dead weights upon the dominant party. It was supposed, too, that the ... impeachment against Andrew Johnson would by the New Hampshire people be more apt to be regarded as a desperate and mischievous party proceeding than a public necessity.

"But against all these drawbacks the Republicans of New Hampshire held their ground. They triumph in the late elections over all these obstructions in rallying under the flag of General Grant as their candidate for the next Presidency. This was, in fact, the initial fight for testing the popularity of General Grant as a Presidential candidate, and the result shows that he cannot be ... Generals Sickles and Cochrane ... the banner of Grant in reviewing the political issues of the rebellion, revived the old war spirit among the people, and the opposing Copperhead orators brought in from other States to preach the old Copperhead gospel of the peace Democracy did good service for the Republicans. Thus we see yet once again that where Copperheadism, with all its obnoxious peace principles and affiliations during the war, boldly presents itself before the people, its offensiveness weighs down all the subsequent oppressions, corruptions, spoliations ... and revolutionary ... schemes of the party which carried through the war against the rebellion. Thus, ... it appears that General Grant as the great champion of the war upon his record of the war ... statesman ... has secured ... fair fight a success which ... announces him the coming man."

The prospects for the coming spring of a wool clip in the State of Illinois are more than usually promising.

THE GRIER OR GRIEF.—The telegraph sends us a somewhat vague account of an ... Justice Grier over the delay in the McArdle case. It was commonly supposed that the postponement of that case was due to the fact that the Chief Justice is obliged to attend the Court of Impeachment, and it will be seen what ... movement for him ... in order to sit upon the Supreme Bench at the same time. Grier complains ... that the cause of delay consists in a desire to bring forward some legislation which will render the decision of the Court unnecessary or nugatory. What this legislation may be ... state ... he accuses the majority of his brethren on the bench ... complicity with their ... it will seem that his protest ... one of the earmarks of ... for that remarkable sympathy for slaveholders which has so long manifested Supreme Court Judges, and particularly the bosom of Justice Grier. He indeed says that this McArdle suit involves not only the liberty and rights of this applicant in this case, but of millions of fellow citizens of the country." We cannot help questioning the genuineness of the regard for liberty and human rights which all is in the heart of a Judge, who soon after the Fugitive Slave Act was passed, manifested such an unscrupulous hate in bringing its hateful and unconstitutional provisions to bear upon a miserable wounded hounded black man who was found quietly earning an honest living in Pennsylvania. That law paid slight heed to the "liberty and rights of millions," it required Northern slaves to be given up on evidence which would not suffice to send back the deepest-dyed criminal, it violated the constitutional provision that no person shall be deprived of liberty without due process of law. The Justice Grier ... hesitate over its requirements, and made haste to turn his judicial wand into the rod of a tyrant. We fear some of the virus of that old time still runs in his veins, and blinds his eyes to the real requirements of liberty.—Sacramento Union.

The Washington Herald is the Sunday paper of the National Intelligencer, which is regarded as the organ of the Administration. We find in it the following pregnant article:

This Government is no longer a government resting upon the will of the people, but has become a government of force, like the Governments of the Old World, as to a large fraction of the inhabitants of our territory. It was a day of evil omen for self government on this continent when one [part] of our people were coerced by another part. The coercion of millions of people to submit to any particular central authority is un American and might is that government is not based on the will of the people, but may be imposed contrary to that will."

Thus is secession preached right under the shadow of the Executive Chamber.

LANGUAGES.—Language must either have been revealed originally from Heaven or it is the fruit of human invention. The latter opinion is embraced by Horace, Lucretius, Cicero and most of the Greek and Roman writers, the former one by the great majority of the Jews, Christians and the profoundest philosophers of France and England. It has been affirmed that Hebrew was the language spoken by Adam, but others deny this and say that the Hebrew, Chaldee and Arabic are the only dialects of the original, which has for many ages been lost and unknown. Psammeticus, the powerful, desiring to know the most ancient people and language on earth, caused two children to be kept from all knowledge of the use of speech until they were two years old; they both pronounced the sound becos, the Phœnician term for bread. He therefore gave the Phœnicians the precedence in point of antiquity to any other nation in the world.

AN INFLATED CURRENCY DOES NOT TEND TO RAISE WAGES.—If it be asked why the rule of increased prices under an inflated currency does not apply to labor as well as other things, the answer is plain. Labor cannot hoard itself in warehouses and granaries. It is compelled to sell itself day by day. It is pre eminently a perishable article. Its whole daily aggregate is sunk and lost every day it is unemployed. And as it cannot be capitalized, so to speak, and held in mass (co-operative industry not having yet reached that point) it is in constant and unnatural competition with itself. And herein consists the ... difference in this respect between labor and commodities, which can be, and are, seized and held for high prices by capitalists and speculators, and which a plethora of the circulating medium is the great agent in accomplishing.—New York Tribune.

SOUTHERN VIEW OF THE NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.—The Lynchburg (Va.) News admits that the result of the New Hampshire election is "rather incompatible with the idea so sedulously inculcated by the Democratic press of an immense revolution in the popular mind against the Radical party," and complains that "so overwhelming political reverses indicate that the people realize the dangers which environ them, and are aroused to the necessity of applying the proper corrective. With stolid indifference the rank and file seem to recognize their old party fealties and deny the commands of their political leaders." The Richmond Dispatch attributes the defeat of the Democrats to the fact that "they made such hot haste to declare that they were not Mr. John[son]'s friends, in the matter of impeachment."

COINCIDENCES.—The diameter of the earth multiplied by 108 gives the diameter of the sun, the diameter of the sun multiplied by 108 gives the mean distance of the earth from the sun, and the diameter of the moon, multiplied by 108, gives the mean distance of the moon from the earth.

ASTHMA.—This disease causes great difficulty of breathing and tightness across the chest, and sometimes is attended with a great deal of suffocation. The paroxysm generally comes on at night, while lying down; sometimes it is attended with great violence. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will always give immediate relief, and in many cases, if persevered in, it will cure the disease altogether. For sale by dealers in family medicines.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL surpasses all other remedies in the rapid and radical cure of Colds, Coughs and Consumption.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia ... and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficient ... Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility ... they are subject. It cheers and brightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

LEFFEL'S
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery—Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

The following is from the Springfield Republic:

Trial of Water Wheels.

Messrs Jo... and John A. McCreight, who are at ... at Harper's Ferry, Va., wishing to procure water wheels and desiring to make a choice ... procured a trial between the Leffel ... and the Welch and Burns Wheel. The following report of the Committee shows the result of the trial.

... Oct 11, 1867.

This is to certify that ... 10th ... of October 1867, I, in company with Mr. Staley, Civil Engineer ... superintended the test between the Leffel Turbine and the Welch & Burns Water wheels made by Rechtle, Blakeley & Bakers, made at Weimer's mill, near West Milton ... The contract required the tests to be made with ½ gates and ¾ gates, with the same amount of water for each wheel. The amount of grinding was superintended by Mr Charles Morgan, who will report the results.

The amount of water used in the tests, as measured by myself and Mr. Staley, is as follows:

	C ft per min
At ½ gate the Leffel Wheel used	88 224
Welch & Burns used	98 224
At ¾ gate the Leffel Wheel used	117 828
Welch & Burns used	117 528

The grinding was continued for one hour each test.
WILLIAM BROWN,
Civil Engineer.
S. S. STALEY.

Having been chosen by both parties to determine the amount of grain ground by each of the above mentioned wheels, the result was as follows:

The Leffel Wheel at ½ gate ground	250 lbs
The Welch & Burns at ½ gate ground	30 ... lbs
The Leffel Wheel at ¾ gate ground	411 ... lbs
The Welch & Burns at ¾ gate ground	192 lbs

CHARLES MORGAN.

An Enterprising firm of this city have imported a few of the above CHEAP PLATFORM WHEELS. They GUARANTEE THEM EQUAL TO THE LEFFEL, OR NO PAY.

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES.
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system? Look at their pallid, haggard and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of ... or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid state thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering from any of these terrible life-destroying maladies, so that they are saved for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his ... study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians of Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of ... solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, ... by the youth of both sexes, are ... producing, with unerring certainty, the ... of morbid symptoms ... facial measures ... sallow countenance, dark spots before the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, the rustling of leaves and rattling of ... about the loins, weakness of the limbs ... blunted intellect, loss of confidence ... preaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of ... flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred ... fetid breath, coughs, sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove ... to him that he was cured of this ... of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are under any of these fearful maladies ... sacred responsibility resting upon them ... obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give the patient a written instrument binding him ... radical and permanent cure or make ...

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has ... medicines promptly forwarded free from ... curiosity, to any part of the country, with full directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent by ... or or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco ... who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, ... Some of the self styled doctors, whose ... found in the daily and weekly newspapers ... circulars and other places, are tradesmen, ... learn to work at their trades. Some are ... makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence ... etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory ... will not find their Medical Institutes ... and their former occupations in it. Look ... tory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to ... them is to make enquiry—it will cost you ... may save you many regrets; for ... claims, in eight ... out of ten, are ... safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are.
